Evander Grimveil

PhD Candidate in Arcane Studies, Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism

Room 313, Eldritch Hall, 523 Shadowveil Avenue, Mysthaven, MA 04213 · (617) 555-1313 · e.grimveil@iosm.edu
ORCID: 0000-0002-1825-0097 · GitHub: @egrimveil · Google Scholar: Evander Grimveil

Research Interests

Curse Mechanics and Advanced Hexes · Forbidden Rituals and Ethical Boundaries · Interdimensional Entities and Dark Conjurations

Education

Ph.D. in Arcane Studies 2019 – Present
Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism, Mysthaven

Master of Dark Arts and Esoteric Knowledge 2017 – 2019
Sorcerum University, Ravenmoor

Bachelor of Arcane Practices and Ritual Theory 2013 – 2017
Eldergrove Academy, Thornbury

Appointments

Research Assistant 2020 – Present
Hexology Laboratory, Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism

Junior Relic Curator 2017 – 2019
Vault of Unquiet Objects, Sorcerum University

Publications

JOURNAL ARTICLES

Grimveil, E., Thornwell, E., & Elyndris, M. (2023). Shadows unseen: Exploring ethical implications in high-level hexes. Journal of Occult Ethics, 14(2), 113–140. doi:55.1186/1471-2588-12-113

Grimveil, E., & Varrow, S. (2023). Conjured allies: Examining protective applications of summoned entities. Occult Sciences Review, 31(4), 445–471. doi:55.6758/3276-4347-22-445

Nightshade, E., & Grimveil, E. (2022). Hex transference and nullification: A study on curse transmission mediums. Arcane Horizons: Studies in Forbidden Knowledge, 9(1), 54–79. doi:55.8494/5725-2364-56-542

Grimveil, E., & Elyndris, M. (2021). Veiled entities: Demonic invocation and its risks. Arcane Horizons: Studies in Forbidden Knowledge, 8(3), 223–248. doi:55.3547/8972-2238-23-594

Grimveil, E. (2021). Securing the shadows: Containment protocols for cursed artifacts. Journal of Dark Relic Studies, 22(1), 11–33. doi:55.6978/5795-5738-2211-333

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

Grimveil, E. (2024). Double-enchantment barriers for volatile relics. In Proceedings of the Annual Dark Arts Summit (pp. 87–96). Mysthaven Press. Slides

Grimveil, E. (2020). Beyond the visible: How dark matter affects ancient hexes. In Proceedings of the Symposium on Arcane Physics (pp. 201–210).

Projects

The Dynamics of Forbidden Rites: Ethics of High-Level Curses 2019 – Present
Can the most dangerous curses be rebuilt for protection and healing? Taking them apart suggests they can.

- Mapped restorative uses of high-level curses.
- Built safer curse containment.
- Traced how hexes are transmitted.

Warding Cartography: Mapping Protective Ley Lines Around Mysthaven 2022 – 2024
A survey of the old protective ley lines around the city, and where they have quietly failed.

- Surveyed 140 km of coastal ley lines with resonance tuning forks.
- Published an open atlas of ward strength for local practitioners.

Interdimensional Entities: Ethical Control of Dark Summons 2020 – 2023
Safer conjuration environments, and a framework that balances control with autonomy.

- Created protocols for stable conjuration environments and containment fields for summoned entities.
- Explored ethical frameworks for responsible summoning, balancing control with entity autonomy.

Artifact Enchantment: Innovations in Dark Relic Handling 2021
Containment methods for volatile relics, and how nearby magic unsettles them.

- Developed secure containment protocols for high-risk, hex-bound artifacts to prevent accidental activation.
- Analyzed stability factors affecting cursed artifacts, optimizing handling and transport procedures.
- Studied interactions between cursed artifacts and external magical energies to guide safe storage.

Grants

Safe Handling of Volatile Relics 2022 – 2025
Council for Arcane Research · Co-investigator · 40,000 gold crowns

Nightshade Doctoral Fellowship 2019
Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism

Honors

Arcane Innovation Award, Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism 2022

Best Student Paper, Symposium on Arcane Physics 2020

Excellence in Forbidden Arts Scholarship, Sorcerum University 2018

Presentations

“Double-enchantment barriers for volatile relics.” Annual Dark Arts Summit, Mysthaven Mar 2024

“Can a curse be used for good?” Ravenmoor Public Lecture Series, Ravenmoor Oct 2023

Teaching

ARC 210: Introduction to Hex Theory Fall 2023
Teaching Assistant, Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism

ARC 345: Ethics of Summoning Spring 2022
Teaching Assistant, Institute for Occult Sciences and Mysticism

Professional Service

- Reviewer: Journal of Occult Ethics, Arcane Horizons
- Student organizer, Annual Dark Arts Summit, 2023
- Member, Guild of Responsible Practitioners

Skills

Methods: Ritual reconstruction, Hex spectroscopy, Field containment

Instruments: Scrying glass, Resonance tuning forks, Warding chalk

Languages: English (native), Old Runic (fluent), Infernal (reading)

Updated November 2026